River Road Gets Top Highway Priority

Other Improvements to As They Are Needed Tie in with It.

Completion of the great river road—Federal Aid Route 151—will be the present terminus north of Pontiac, and the McKinley Bridge in Venice is the top priority on the wait list of expressway and major street projects set up in the 20-year highway program designed by H. W. Smith Co. of Chicago, Illinois State Highway officials told a public hearing on the Granite City hall last night.

While other projects will be designed and initiated in the order of their priority for construction, the need for a new expressway, Route 151, is one of two of the many proposed highways for which plans actually have been designed and construction work projected, the officials said. Thus the program of 14 major street and bridge projects and 16 collector street improvements in the Quad-City area will be subject to change as time goes on and traffic surveys reveal changing requirements in traffic flow.

The other project, on which work has progressed to the point of securing right-of-way and preparing construction plans is the Nameoki road improvement from Madison avenue to Pontoon road.

Slight Attendance. Only slight attendance made up mostly of Granite City aldermen, was at the meeting which considered the first stage of the proposed highway improvement report for the Quad-City Road and Bridge Chieftain of the Locust engineering firm, explained with the use of maps, the proposed highway changes and improvements and their tie-in with the expressway.

The program, part of an overall design for an area extending from north of Alton to south of East St. Louis, projected a 20-year period and at one point Beebe said the entire system of improvements is so vast that it is possible it could not be completed in 20 years, even if the money were immediately available.

Representatives of the Illinois Department of Highways at the hearing in addition to Beebe were John Leek and Harold Hanlon, Illinois Highway Bureau of Planning; Senator William F. Kramer, district engineer; and E. R. Alles, assistant district engineer, from the Illinois highway office at French Village; J. D. Danielson, director of research and planning; and Glen Sawyer, assistant engineer of research and planning, both from the Peoria highway district.

Questions On Right-of-Way.

On only one occasion did the meeting threaten to evolve into a turbulent session, when the resolution of securing right-of-way and what effects the encroachment of highway right-of-way might cause. That was when several members of the delegation asked highway officials about securing right-of-way for the Nameoki road improvement.

Aldermen pointed out that highway officials had resolved the question of securing right-of-way and any information concerning right-of-way could be secured at the district office. At that, the hearing was adjourned early in explanation of the highway plan.

Representing the Granite City council were Alderman William McGee, State Senator William Nunn and State Senator, Fifth Ward; Paul Rutledge and Donald Parmenter, Fourth Ward; William Dallas and Charles Moore.

No Summer Slump for Local Industries

Heavy industry in the Granite City area is enjoying stepped-up production and employment, in what appears to be a moderate upturn in some instances to what one plant official described as a "tremendous pickup."

Outstanding example is American Steel Foundries where a plant official told the Press-Record his company's production has jumped at least 50% during the past six months and employment has doubled.

Other companies reported varying increases both in production and employment and those that had no sharp upswing maintained their business is "good" because, as one small shop has failed to develop. Generally, plant spokesman, primarily in the steel industry, agreed that business now, from the standpoint of both production and employment, is at a level higher than last year, even as of six months ago.

50% Boost at American. At American Steel Foundries a plant official said that employment there began increasing as far back as Jan. 1, 1963, but that both production and employment were growing upswing only during the latter part of 1963. Since then there has been a "tremendous pickup" with production jumping at least 50% since the end of the year. It was said, American Steel had approximately 380 employees. The plant now employs 500. The plant official said that number, the official said, 600 employees have been added during the past six months.

General Steel Industries reported an employment increase of 1000 persons, a jump of 50% over its employment of approximately 2000 persons a year ago. An upturn in production has developed in the last six months, but a plant spokesman pointed out that a consolidation of operations is responsible for a good part of the rise and that it is not a result of an upturn in general business conditions. A year ago General Steel Industries had approximately 380 employees. The plant now employs 500. The plant official said that number, the official said, 600 employees have been added during the past six months.

FLASHING TRAFFIC SIGNAL (circled) established over the intersection of Highways 111 and 35 by the State Highway Division as a traffic safety measure instituted by the cities of Granite City and Madison. The signal flashes red on Highway 35, which also is controlled by a stop sign and yellow on Highway 111, requiring traffic to reduce speed.

Flasher Beacons Set at Highways

Red and yellow flasher beacons have been installed at Highways 111 and 35 to help control traffic, the Madison city council was informed with all of the operators of vehicles at the intersection.

The red flasher applies to Highway 35, which has stop signs, while the yellow flasher applies to traffic on Highway 111 to slow traffic at the intersection.

The highway division said the highway has a rate of 1000 vehicles an hour, and that an unusually high amount, and that four stop-way traffic signals or stop signs would prevent a free-flowing highway, because of a rail crossing at the west approach to the intersection.

The division conducted a survey at the request of Alderman and Council City mayors.

Only slight attendance made up mostly of Granite City aldermen, was at the meeting which considered the proposed highway improvement report for the Quad-City Road and Bridge Chieftain of the Locust engineering firm, explained with the use of maps, the proposed highway changes and improvements and their tie-in with the expressway.

City Pondering Removal Of Old Trolley Tracks

A possibility that old street car tracks along Madison avenue, 23rd street and Washington avenue may be removed in the near future was hinted Monday night when the City aldermen gave a first glimpse of the proposed budget for 1964-65.

A request to include appropriated amounts in the budget for track removal along Madison avenue and Washington avenue was made by Alderman Gabrielle Bettine; while the trolley track removal along Adams and 23rd streets had been proposed by Alderman J. D. Bergfeld and Clyde Boyd.

Council members noted that the old rails have been causing numerous traffic accidents, and Charles Moenlon said he believed the rails on Madison avenue "stick up about an inch above the pavement."

Council members also questioned what action would begin repairs to the crossings throughout the city. Alderman Walter Nunn suggested the city proceed to make the repairs and then bill the railroads. However, it was decided to wait until City Atty. George Fileoff jr. returns from Army Reserve training and learns the status of the city's demands to the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The aldermen rejected a state highway department proposal to add $1748 for snow removal and clearing state highways through the city, saying it was inadequate.

Mayor Davis was called upon to ask the highway department for additional funds to include maintenance. Mayor Davis said he has made the same request every year for the past five or

New Nativity of Virgin Mary Orthodox Church Being Built

Construction began this week on the new Nativity of Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church, to be built at the corner of Fifth street and Ewing avenue, Madison. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Sunday at the site.

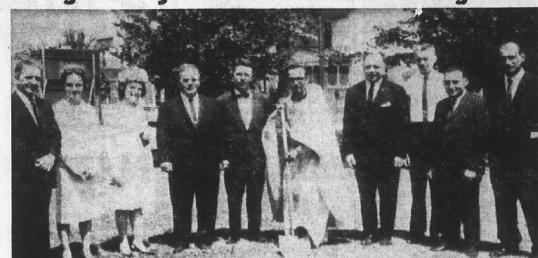

The new church will feature an onion-shaped gold fiberglass dome or cupola similar to those traditional Russian Orthodox churches. It is estimated the new church will be built next to the rectory. The present church, built in 1900, is unable to accommodate the congregation, which has reached 1,000.

Applications will be accepted until Saturday from prospective candidates, who must be single, a high school graduate and between the ages of 18 and 28.

Girls interested in the annual beauty pageant, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, are urged to attend tonight's meeting, Spinks added.

Often do the spirits of great events stride on before the events, and so to-day are walked by shadow.

County Zoning Board
Okays Use Permits

Two requests for use permits involving Nauvoo Township property were acted upon favorably at a meeting of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, and will be submitted to the county board of supervisors for final action at its next meeting July 13.

In one instance, the board granted a petition of James Green, purchaser, and Morris Roney, owner of record, requesting a special use permit to construct a duplex on lot 65 first addition to New Haven Manor, Nauvoo. The proposed property is located east of the Maryville road about one mile north of Granite City.

The board declined with provisions another petition, filed by Hal Painter Jr. and H. W. R. Development Co., requesting a special use permit to operate a beauty shop in a house to be constructed on lot 8, Town and Country Estates subdivision, located on the south side of Stratford Lane.

ORANGE EMBLEM TO MARCH FARM VEHICLES

A brilliant orange safety emblem will help make the highways safer for farmers driving slow-moving vehicles and also give auto drivers more warning time.

The new emblem is used to help identify slow-moving vehicles, which may travel less than 20 miles an hour. The emblem is an equilateral triangle with a point up. In daylight, the center is a fluorescent orange color. At night the border reflects red in the light of head lamps.

The emblems must not be used for other purposes, such as on piles of rocks or trees. Illinois law requires a red flag to be displayed on all slow-moving vehicles. However, limp flags are difficult to see in the day-time and are virtually impossible to spot at night. The brilliant orange safety emblem is designed to warn motorists in time to slow down or stop.

FARM WORKERS AND FEDERAL WAGE-HOUR LAW

Farm workers are regularly exempt from the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions of the Federal Wage-Hour Law. And children are exempt from the child-labor provisions of the act, unless they are employed in agriculture under certain conditions, according to Norman Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural economics.

The Federal Wage-Hour Law sets up minimum and overtime wages. However, farm workers are not covered by this law if they're employed in agriculture, part-time or otherwise. Such work includes cultivating the soil, growing or harvesting crops or raising livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals and poultry. People engaged in greenhouse operations and hatcheries are also exempt from the law.

Certain workers in the area of agriculture are exempt from the law if they handle, pack, store, pasteurize, dry, prepare in the raw or natural state or can agricultural or horticultural products for market. Farm workers in a community of less than 2,500 population from which it receives its raw materials from within certain distances. For example, the area of production distance from farm to market and vegetables is 15 miles.

Most part-time and seasonal farm workers are also exempt from minimum wage and overtime standards.

Krausz points out that, under federal law, children may be employed in agriculture school during the school year, but not in summer. Children under 16 may work in agriculture for their parents' guardians during any hours.

HOWEVER, STATE LAWS GENERALLY

SUPERSEDE THIS FEDERAL CHILD-LABOR LAW EXEMPTION. Krausz explains that Illinois law requires attendance in school until age 16. This is plus 100 days of school in addition. Children under 16 may work in agriculture by employing his child during school hours.

VEGETABLE GARDENS NEED
ONE INCH RAIN A WEEK

Vegetables may need extra water when the weather is less than an inch a week. When you water your garden, soak the soil thoroughly to a depth of at least six inches. It's much better to water it thoroughly once a week than to sprinkle it at short intervals.

To be useful, the water must get down to the root zone of the plants.

For best results, water the plants to develop shallow root systems. When the weather turns hot and dry, these plants will be the first to suffer.

At least one inch of water a week, including rainfall, is desirable for vegetables. To measure the amount of water you are applying, place four or five cans in the garden. Then water will collect approximately the same amount of water as soil.

To prevent disease, water the vegetables in the early morning in the day to allow the moisture to dry before the dew appears.

The most common way to apply water is with a hose with a perforated hose. Adjust them so that they distribute the water evenly over the entire garden area.

On heavier soils and in nearly level areas, it is good practice to form irrigation furrows to direct the water down small furrows between the rows.

For more information about garden problems, ask the farm adviser's office for a copy of the 1964 Illinois Vegetable Garden Guide.

INQUIRIES ON LAKES

Roy Lockhart, district fish biologist of the State Department of Conservation, had a busy day at the Farm Bureau meeting at Edwardsville recently when 27 pond owners of the county came in to confer with him on pond management and fish propagation problems.

Most of the questions were about weed and algae control, over population of small fish, and about the cost of dredging.

Several people brought pond weeds for identification.

Pond owners wishing information on management problems may visit Lockhart at his office at Vandalia or get publications on various pond subjects at the farm adviser's office.

both Worthen and member Ronald Dillard told the board that they expected the new Granite City school in Madison, designed by Virgil Dulevoff, and that Madison school officials highly recommended the architect.

Virgil Dulevoff has designed schools in St. Clair County and in other parts of Southern Illinois and is assigned to conduct the survey on the fire safety code for Madison schools.

Johnson said several deadlines have been set for compliance with the school safety code ranging from one month to two years. Madison County School Board, Wilbur R. Tripp, has been designated as the enforcer of fire on the code. He told Johnson the amortization schedule for repayment of bonds to finance the 1964 building program had authorized the administration to continue the sales leading toward the sale of bonds.

Land Swap

After hearing a favorable report on a proposal to swap land with the Granite City park district, the school districtized Johnson and his attorney, Maurice Dadey to proceed with the legal transaction in the trade.

The schools are to acquire 11.65 acres of park site off of Maryville road for its new elementary school, and the park district is to receive a 10.5-acre site for its new high school.

The first payment is due in 1965 and according to the tentative plans, would include $76,000 in principal and $152,321 in interest for a total of $228,321. The principal payments would increase each year, especially after the eighth year, when principal payments and interest on current outstanding debt would be $182 million. The total interest cost of the new bond issue at 4.3% will be $795,500, with the entire issue of $795,500, with the entire issue of being retired by Oct. 3, 1975, Johnson said. The maximum tax rate for the retirement of the issue with a remaining principal balance of $182 million will be 12.6 cents and the minimum will be 11.4 cents, with an average of 12.2 cents.

The board approved a tentative

Amortization Schedule

The tentative amortization schedule on the $2,390,000 bond issue was based on an interest rate of 4.3% and the actual rate would be between 3 and 4% to be decided at the time of the sale of the bond market, then, and that the schedule will have to be revised.

Propes to Be Prather Jr. High Assistant Principal

Eugene Propes, 2014 Arnos avenue, was named to the newly-created position of assistant principal of Prather junior high school, during a regular meeting of the Granite City school board last night.

Propes, who has taught the high school and served as Prather wrestling coach, will aid Principal Walter Klein in general disciplinary responsibility for extracurricular activities and on school buses. An enrollment of 1,200 students is expected at Prather this fall, and a nine-classroom addition currently under construction will increase its capacity.

Supt. Harold M. Kaiser and Russell D. Johnson, who will become superintendent on July 1, Propes, who has taught the high school and served as Prather wrestling coach, will aid Principal Walter Klein in general disciplinary responsibility for extracurricular activities and on school buses. An enrollment of 1,200 students is expected at Prather this fall, and a nine-classroom addition currently under construction will increase its capacity.

Noel will join GCHS Principal Lawrence McCauley and Assistant Principal Steve Jones in administrative duties at the senior high school, which has an enrollment of 2,600 tenth and twelfth grade students in September. Previously, a counselor for the high school, Noel prior to that time served as a mathematics and chemistry teacher for seven years.

Approval was granted for the return from leaves-of-absence of two elementary school teachers: Mrs. Jo Ann Buckley and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Evans. They are to be assigned duties for the 1964-1965 school year.

He had been suffering from a chronic diabetes condition and was in the hospital two months.

He is survived by his wife, Oliver, six daughters; two sons; five sisters; 23 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren. Services will be held Saturday in Crocker, Mo.

Who's to Blame For Weeds—City

Wed cutting along the old Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks in the East Granite area from Kates street to Nameoki and proved to be a responsibility of the city. Sixth Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish learned when he inquired as to where to lay the blame for the tall weeds.

It was informed the city has officially accepted the old right-of-way. The city inspector's office is to be advised of the need to cut the weeds.

Weed complaints also have been made this week for private property along the block of Logan street and at vacant property in the 2000 block of Grand avenue.

Ray, Brooks Sentenced To 2-5 Years In Prison

Charles Ray, 18, of 2504 Denvers, and Jack Brooks, 20, of 2313 East 23rd Street, were sentenced to terms of two to five years in the state penitentiary today after they were denied probation in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

They had pleaded guilty to burglary early last November when they were caught inside the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall during a break-in, and charges on other crimes remain pending.

An associate, David Keel, 20, July 6.

Smith to Head 'Fly-By'

Col. Robert L. Smith, son-in-law of Mrs. and Mrs. E. E. Veith of Granite City, will be in charge of a "fly-by" of four F100 jet bombers from the 110th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, at 3 p.m. July 4 during the Bicentennial Water and Sky Spectacle on St. Louis' riverfront. Brig. Gen. Clinton T. Moran, a former Granite Cityan, is the unit commander.

It was held at the Illinois Club in East St. Louis.

Tucker Proposes 2-State Council; Davis Named

St. Louis Mayor Raymond Tucker last night called upon mayors of Southwestern Illinois municipalities to support plans for a Metropolitan St. Louis Regional Council which would include the general geographic boundaries of the metropolitan area.

Tucker spoke at a meeting of the Southwest Illinois Mayors Association.

Mayors, Mayor Leonard Davis, Madison Mayor Stephen Mearns, and Mayor John Lee of Venice.

It was held at the Illinois Club in East St. Louis.

Mayor Davis was selected to represent the mayors' group on the regional committee which will promote regional planning in the two-state area.

The St. Louis mayor said the proposed council would be "an arm of the Bi-State Development Agency but independent of it." He had earlier made similar proposals to St. Louis and St. Louis' two state groups.

The value of the regional council, Tucker said, is that "it would transcend the political boundaries of the area represented and would not disturb existing units of government." He noted however, that "the regional council would have any legislative powers. It would be completely voluntary in character." Its "economic logic" would bring its members together, he said.

Tucker pointed to three reasons for believing such a forum for metropolitan problems would be beneficial. He noted that a research group was already working together on traffic and transportation, air pollution and industrial development. He said that similar problems are destined to increase as the population of the St. Louis metropolitan area grows to 3.5 million by 1980, an increase of nearly one million in seven years.

He further noted the political value of regional councils in eight other metropolitan areas of the country, such as Detroit, New York City and San Francisco.

"I would envision a council which would include local units of government, state legislatures,

A burglar who was cutting a hole in the green at the home of Charles J. Zeller, 2601 Benton street, fled when Zeller awakened and turned on the lights at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday. He was about 5 feet, one inch tall and wearing a white sweat shirt. When police arrived, they saw the man standing on the street, but he disappeared in shrubbery before they could peak him.

Others:

Its parent planning committee met last week in St. Louis to discuss ways in which state cooperation could be increased. C. Townsend, editor and publisher of the Press-Record, was named chairman of the group.

The meeting Wednesday night was attended by 90 representatives of area municipalities including 26 mayors. The next meeting of the mayors' council will be held in September, also in East St. Louis.

School Board Sets New Pay Schedule For Administrators

A new schedule for salaries of school administrators, with pay increases not to exceed $75 per month a year for up to five years, was approved Wednesday night by the Granite City school board.

A detailed schedule is to be prepared with formal action to be taken at the July 13 meeting. It will be retroactive to July 1.

Salary increases were amended by the board when some administrators objected that some administrators would receive increases of up to $200 a month.

A program providing that a peak be reached over a five-year period was devised during a period and a half executive session.

Russell Johnson reported that an extensive survey was made of administrative salaries on a state and national basis. It was determined that the salaries here are far below those in Champaign. The administration recommended raising the two bases at the top of the scale by 160% more than that of the teachers on the same point of the teachers' salary schedule.

Reactions varied. One administrator said the new schedule was needed to expand the salary range between teachers and administrators, a range which has been narrowing for the past three years.

Under the plan, some administrators would receive an immediate total increase, while new appointments would be given two years to reach the peak. Johnson noted that the monthly increase could not be lower than $40, however, to prevent a downward narrowing of the pay range.

The high school principal would reach maximum in three years, on the $75 per month basis. Exact starting salaries for each administrative position were not disclosed at the executive session but are to be provided for the next meeting.

Administrators' pay withdrawals:

A general outline of the terms agreed to by the members was stipulated in a motion by Monroe Whitehead, which later was withdrawn pending formal passage at the next meeting.

It provided that the salary schedule originally proposed be approved with the following alterations:

The percentages set so that the maximum will be reached in five years and the minimum to increase from 1% to 2% per year. Those administrators on the job will be given full credit for prior experience and that the maximum increase for an individual other than those newly appointed shall be limited to $75 per month.

Robert Langeler objected that the original plan would cost the school district $35,000 the first year and an additional $10,000 for a second year.

Johnson said the new salary scales will be between the highest and lowest recorded in the administrative survey of other districts.

Get Good Administrators:

In support of the new plan, Whitehead commented that "you can't get good administrators at a cut-rate price," but if "some aren't doing the job, it's time to get rid of them and get somebody else."

A letter stating that the district's lease of offices in the Labor Temple, 2010 Madison, Aug. 31, 1963, was disputed by John C. Johnson who said that the original lease expired on Aug. 31, 1963, and that only a one-year extension had been received. The board of education has referred the case to the old post office building in the business district.

A letter of appreciation and recommendation was voted for Dr. Harold Kaiser, superintendent, who has resigned and attended his last board meeting last night.

$10,000 Fund Ok'd For Condemnations

Authorization for property condemnations to be started this year in Granite City was given Monday by the commissioners with $10,000 to be included in the new city budget for legal fees to be paid to the Morris Chapman law firm.

The commissioners entered into a contract with the firm to handle 67 to 100 condemnations, and the unofficial vote to add $10,000 to the legal expense section of the budget was approved by vote of 13-to-2 with Alderman Whitmer and Bartosiak opposing. Alderman Boyd was absent.

Bartosiak said he favored having the commissioners act as attorney to handle the condemnations and aid City Atty. George Filcock Jr.

Alderman Partney, chairman of the condemned property and zoning committee, said the city has been trying to condemn property for the past six or seven years but the city attorneys had been unable to take on the added work.

"We have about 67 pieces of property ready for the law firm, and the number could easily go to 100 or over," he said.

Exams Set Saturday in Jobs for Youth Field

Applicants for positions as counselor aides and youth advisers in the new summer youth opportunity program were reminded today by M. A. Thompson, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service. Only a few days remain to submit an application and to make arrangements to participate in an examination.

Thompson said the examination in this area will be held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the employment service office, 2050 tower street. Persons taking the examination must visit the office in advance, complete an application to be sent to Washington and register to take the exam.

To qualify for counselor aide an applicant must be a college graduate preferably with some work in the field of educational science. For youth advisers, the applicant, while not required to have a degree, must be over 21 years old, have completed high school, and have a sincere aptitude and dedication for youth work.

Applicants chosen will go to an eight-week, experimental job training and training course at a college before assignment.

Candidates successful in the examination will be listed for openings at the DuQuoin state fairgrounds and are expected to develop the youth opportunity program gains momentum. Thompson added.

The many levels of governmental activity, the expanded educational program, the greater counseling effort and job-finding efforts of the public employment service and the work of many private organizations in the youth service field offer many employment possibilities, Thompson said.

City Council Building Budget—Close to $2,000,000

Granite City's new budget had hit $1,833,572 and was still climbing when Granite City council members decided Monday night to break off recommendations on the budget, projects and give closer scrutiny to the figures next Monday night.

Most of the additions at the long-unveiling of the new budget were for sidewalk projects, but the council had not yet touched on drainage work when the 7 to 8 p.m. hour allotted for public budget hearings ended.

The $1,833,572 represented a quick increase from the $1,802,575 budgeted Comptroller John Dasher had prepared with the aid of department heads and committee chairmen.

$1,833,572 Over 1963 Spending

The tentative figure, when additions were held, was $147,737, or last year's net total, plus $1,685,000 when a truck was wrecked.

Costs for Aldermen

After a more thorough study of the purchase of individual desks for each alderman for the council room, the desks would have to be shaved aside when the room is used as a circuit court room.

Mayor Davis agreed the sessions did not estimate to the dignity of the sessions.

No truck was taken on a recommendation for the city to purchase jointly with the downtown merchants a used water truck to flush the streets.

The truck would cost $700.

Costs for Flusher Decision

The aldermen said the city should not enter into an arrangement that might restrict the operation of the truck to downtown streets, especially if the city council session is held on Monday night for review of the budget.

The city council abandoned its plan to split the ground floor of the city hall to moderate the police department at an estimated cost of $45,000, and may build a new building for the police department next year on the city block near the main fire station at the police department.

The police department also is requesting a sixth patrol car with plans to abandon motor cycles for traffic work and assign $120 for a pair of walkie units with a special an-3rd street and Madison avenue. This year, $60,000 is being allocated to build a fire station in West Granite.

Pirates Seek Diamond Booty in Tryout Camp Here

All Photos by Press-Record Staff Photographer

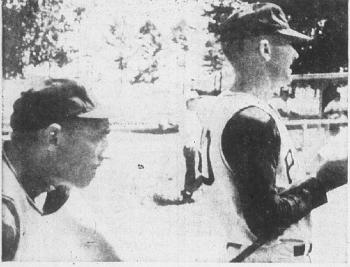

COCKING ARM prior to throw to home plate is Vernon Lewis of Troy. Outfielders threw from rightfield to second and third bases and home after catching scout's fungoes.

INTENTLY PENCILING in personal data on information card is Rich Sauget of Belleville. Later Sauget suffered a minor head cut when a backswing clipped him as he was catching batting practice.

FIRING BALL in batting practice is pitcher Bill Schmidt of Cahokia. Scouts found they had players at every position except first base.

EVALUATING BATTING prowess of hopefuls, scouts Ehmsen (left) and Jackson watch from directly behind portable batting cage. Jackson, head scout of a six-state area, graded each phase of every individual's performance.

LARRY DILLARD, who ranked as the area's top high school shortstop this spring as a junior at Granite City, takes turn at plate.

BEHIND MESH of batting cage, Alton's Richmond waits for batting practice delivery while Sauget catches. Batters take as many swings as the scouts deem necessary to show their true talent, then run out the final hit.

Time was when major league baseball teams depended heavily on local tryout camps to supply the vast network of minor league farms.

But times have changed—there are fewer minor league teams now, and the demand is more for quality rather than quantity. And since most players worth their salt play on high school or college teams, today's scouts concentrate on those outlets as their major sources of talent supply.

But tryout camps are still around during the first few months after the prep and college seasons are ended. There is still hope that these camps might yield some diamond-in-the-rough of the diamond.

"We usually find one with potential in each camp," said Bill Jackson, scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Thurs., June 25, 1964 Page 33 as the camp opened Monday and Tuesday at Wilson Park.

"Of course, it depends on the size of the camp, but normally there's something about at least one boy you like."

The Pirates' camp here, lightly attended because advance publication somehow failed to go out, drew only a handful Monday and about 25 Tuesday after a Press-Record story in Monday's edition.

"Next year we'll publicize this thing more and try to get a couple hundred boys out here," Jackson told the Press-Record.

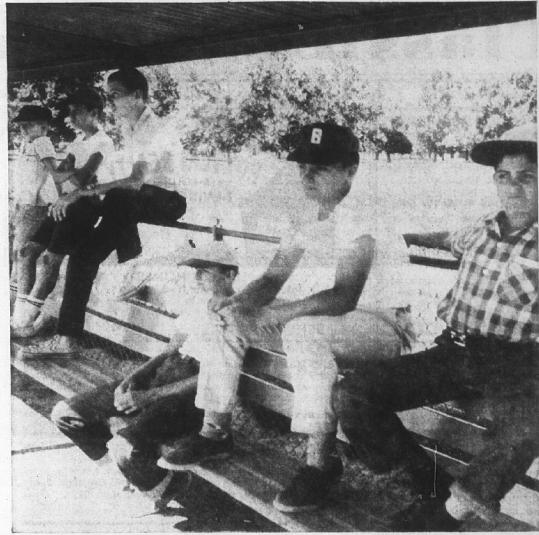

Jackson estimated that more than 400 tryout camps are held annually in the 14 areas that the Pirates have across the country.

At these camps, boys are tested for speed (running the 60-yard dash), throw, fielding and batting. Competition is also held under game conditions.

One important function of the tryout camps is to get a line on younger players with big league potential. "They start showing their ability when they're 15 or 16," Jackson said. "If we know who the good ones are, then we can be watching them as they develop."

Sports

PERCHED IN DUGOUT watching tryouts are youngsters who aren't quite old enough to join in. At right in foreground is 11-year-old Bruce Dillard and others along the bench to his right are Steve Bulla, 14; Alan Bulla, 12; Mike White, 13; Mike Kloba, 13, and Joe VanBuskirk, 11. Age minimum, except by invitation, is 16.
